UltraInflamX was designed for those with chronic inflammatory conditions. This patented medical food is formulated to provide nutritional support for the management of the following symptoms or syndromes:

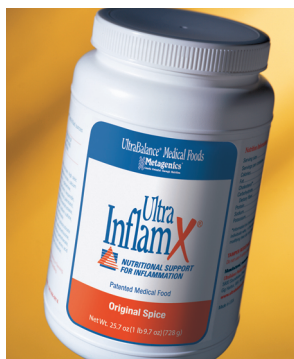

- ▲ Rheumatoid arthritis—an inflammatory disease of the joints
- ▲ Ulcerative colitis & Crohn's disease—inflammatory disorders of the digestive or gastrointestinal tract
- ▲ Eczema & psoriasis—inflammatory disorders of the skin

UltraInflamX provides advanced nutrition that may support a decrease in inflammatory damage while promoting healing in patients with chronic inflammatory conditions. UltraInflamX is a rice-based medical food in powdered form that mixes easily with water or juice. UltraInflamX may be recommended in a gastrointestinal restoration or detoxification program in addition to its use in an anti-inflammatory lifestyle program.

UltraInflamX has been clinically tested to nutritionally support inflammatory conditions and associated intestinal disorders. UltraInflamX is effective not only because of the science and clinical testing that went into its development, but also because of the quality of the ingredients contained in the formula.

Unique product features:

- Low-allergy-potential rice protein concentrate—derived from a unique process that is enhanced with essential amino acids
- Patented, research-based blend of specific amounts of nutrients designed to address underlying inflammatory reactions—including curcumin, ginger, hesperidin, zinc, magnesium, and vitamins C, B₂, and B₆
- Nutritional blend of vitamins and minerals—including mixed carotenoids, zinc, manganese, selenium, quercetin, rutin, rosemary, and vitamins A, C, and E—to provide antioxidant protection which may help reduce free radical generation that may lead to further inflammation

- Formulated without dairy products, gluten, wheat, egg, soy, corn protein, and yeast—as well as artificial flavorings, sweeteners, and colors
- Available in Original Spice, Chocolate Orange, Tropical Mango, and Pineapple-Banana to suit a variety of tastes

UltraInflamX contains high quality protein, fiber, specific vitamins and minerals, and a proprietary blend of nutrients that nutritionally support healthy fatty acid metabolism, gastrointestinal function, and detoxification, while reducing oxidative stress.

Each serving of UltraInflamX provides:

- Targeted nutrition to help balance inflammatory reactions
- Limonene and sulfate cofactors to provide nutritional support for detoxification that may be compromised by inflammatory conditions
- 15 grams of low-allergy-potential vegetable protein from rice
- 4 grams of dietary fiber per serving from rice bran to promote the growth of beneficial intestinal bacteria, as well as promote overall gastrointestinal health
- Glutamine (an essential amino acid) to additionally support gastrointestinal integrity and health
- Vitamin B₅, zinc, and quercetin to promote gastrointestinal healing
